

Quizlet

10-3 10 terms by Sarah_Hartman9

Like this study set? Create a free account to save it. ✕

Create a free account

How did society and the legal system in England evolve after 1066

A stronger central government took place. Measures were also taken to check that power. The first census was taken since Roman periods and a law making legislature was formed.

Magna Carta

"the Great Charter"; a written legal agreement that limited the English monarch's power

Parliament

A body of representatives that makes laws for a nation

Understanding Historical Interpretation
Why was 1066 a turning point in European history?

Prior to 1066 there was a very weak central government. After 1066 there was a stronger central government built upon the concept of monarchy.

Why was the reign of King Philip II Augustus a turning point in the French monarchy?

Added to French power, land, and income

Why was the reign of Philip II Augustus important to the growth of the French monarchy?

This enabled the strongest and best-governed monarchy in Europe

Estate

One of the three classes into which French society was divided before the revolution

Why did the lands of Germany and Italy not become united during the Middle Ages?

Since the German kings were more focused on conquering the Italian states, they neglected their own German empire, ultimately leaving the kingdom to greedy powerful German lord. The empire wouldn't be unified until 1700s

What is the origin of the term Holy Roman Empire?

Deriving first from the Roman Empire and then from Charlemagne, he envisioned a completely catholic empire.

Which Slavic peoples formed new kingdoms in eastern and central Europe?

Eastern Slavic people formed new kingdoms in present day Russia. Vikings were already there and soon mingled with the Slavic people. They eventually converted to Christianity and created a prosperous trade route.
