

Chapter 7 Lesson 3 Review page 171

1. What were insulae and what social class used them? P. 170

The rich had comfortable villas, while the poor lived in apartment blocks called insulae, which might be six stories high.

2. In what ways was the Early Empire a period of greatness, and in what ways was the Early Empire riddled with problems?

3. What elements defined the early Roman Empire?

Emperors and imperial government, provincial governments, local administrators of city and towns, standardized urban plan, Roman law, and Latin language

4. How did the Romans spread Greco-Roman arts and culture, and what were their characteristics? P. 165-167

Roman art combined Roman and Greek styles, architecture was a great accomplishment, and great literature was written.

5. What was the family and social structure of the ancient Romans, and how did they live? P. 169

Family was the basic unit of society, boys received more education, marriages were arranged for daughters by their fathers, women had some rights, and slavery was widespread.

6. What characterized Roman religion? P.171

Romans believed in many Gods and worshipped them in temples, and they also tolerated other religions.