

Chapter 5 – Sect 1, 2, 3 Classwork - modified

Sect. 1

Appalachian Mts.

Great Plains

Canadian Shield

Rocky Mts.

Continental Divide

Great Lakes

Mackenzie River

Sect. 2

Permafrost

Prevailing Westerlies

Everglades

Sect. 3

Nomad

Beringia

St. Lawrence Seaway

Lock

Questions: (Write the questions)

1. Why are the United States and Canada leading food producers? P. 121

The United States and Canada are leading food producers because they have a wealth of _____ resources.

2. What are the most abundant natural resources in the United States and Canada? P. 117

They have fertile _____, ample supplies of _____, vast forests, and large deposits of a variety of minerals.

3. What type of vegetation covers most of Canada? P. 125

Coniferous forest covers most of Canada.

4. Why were railroads important in the development of the United States? P. 130

Railroads made crossing the continent from the _____ to the _____ quicker and easier. They carried _____ and _____ cross-country, promoting economic development and national unity as they went.