Words are often not enough to express how deep a loving heart this young lady has. God has given this beautiful girl a love for kids who are less fortunate - and the wonderful part is watching her acknowledge this special/unique gifting as it has been intended. She embraces it and allows her spirit to love, hold, laugh, and cry with these beautiful kids in Haiti.

It seems easier to live to your perceived expectations of those around you or the cultural norms - as is so prevalent today. This is often very empty and shallow. True solace and joy comes from following the path your Creator walks - and joining Him. This takes a lot of guts for a Clemson College student. Love ya Madi - Dad...

Happy father's day to me , my grown daughter is moving into her own place and still wants dad and step mom to help her move in and set it up. We have lots of young people in our lives who need us to be the best we can and an example of how to do life. We can't do it without God's example for us . Lord guide us and help us be the aunt , Uncke, dad , stepdad , mom and step mom that we can be . Take our past mistakes and turn them into something that glorifies You . We are not perfect we sometimes make poor decisions but we are better than we were before.

A good dad son memory ... 1978 or 79, my dad and I are driving through Virginia in his Jag Xj something - cool car back then, and we stop to take a break and a pic in the mountains. It was a fun time with Lou Rawls playing and I got to ride in the front seat the whole way. Happy Fathers Day to all.

Day two of medical science camp. Matthew (in the middle) learning to intubation a "patient." Then he was timed and did it successfully in about 30 seconds.

He also diagnosed a simulated heart attack (on the life-like, full-body dummy). After the group misdiagnosed, causing a flat-line and revived the "patient."

During my travel from Florida to Kansas I have added a new "thing to do" to my bucket list! I must ride my Harley Davidson through these Oklahoma Highways. The hills and valleys are absolutely beautiful. The stretches of twisting roads on Route 66 aren't bad either. This would be an awesome ride for me and my brothers!

I must admit this weekend has been bitter sweet. I left my son in the care of Dodge City Community College coaches and staff in Dodge City, Kansas. That's about 18hrs from Florida. I was concerned driving into Kansas, but when I got there and saw the small town environment and how much they support the college my anxiety slowly decreased. What a great opportunity for my son to first continue his education and second pursue his football dream. I shared with him my first experience of leaving the care of my mother's home. Unlike him my friends Eric Hewitt and Stevie Johnson drove me to Shreveport, LA to catch a plane to San Diego, California to begin my USN career. My first night in Cali consisted of Drill Instructors yelling at me, getting my hair shaved off and slamming trash cans on the deck as my alarm clock at 3am. Not to mention I left home with the clothes I was wearing and a pair of sneakers. That's it! My uniform that I would wear for the next 20yrs was issued to me in Boot camp! I think I turned out okay! Lol Needless to say after arriving at Dodge City CC to start the check in process Tavian met 5 incoming Freshmen from the State of Florida which made him feel even more at home. He will embrace this opportunity and make the best of it. It's time to create memories that will last a lifetime. There is nothing like your College experience. His roommate is from Louisiana and has the same demeanor as Tavian. Both also play the position of LB with nice size. Son it's time to grind... In the classroom as well as the football field!
